Invitation to Attend

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to the Gold Coast for the first CRC for Construction Innovation Research Conference 2003 to be held from Monday 28 July to Wednesday 30 July at the Crowne Plaza Hotel, Surfers Paradise.

This Research Conference will provide the opportunity for our industry, government and research partners to come together over two days in a workshop and social settings to network, share and develop fresh research ideas. This year's theme is Collaboration and Innovation. We will use these two days to build and grow our culture of collaboration and innovation across our diverse set of partners.

We will showcase the CRC CI as an internationally recognised centre of research excellence in the property and construction industry. We are offering flights, accommodation and conference participation for two people per CRC CI partner. We will pay accommodation and conference participation costs for extra staff.

On 28 July we have an inaugural dinner to provide networking opportunities in the relaxed environment overlooking the Gold Coast beaches. I strongly encourage you to attend this dinner on the eve of the first day as it is important for us to socialise, collaborate and be innovative both within and across project teams and research disciplines to ensure quality and excellence.

I look forward to meeting with you for what I know will be a very worthwhile gathering.
