FOREWORD FROM THE PREMIER OF VICTORIA

2006 has been an exciting year for Victoria and Victorians. Melbourne and key regional centres stepped into the spotlight having hosted a successful Commonwealth Games and created lasting lifetime memories.

My Government is committed to building a world class Victoria. In March, the new Southern Cross Station welcomed aboard thousands of Victorians and is set to become a new Victorian icon. Coming up this September, Victorians will have their first chance to experience a well-loved tradition, where the country meets the city, at the Royal Melbourne show in the refreshed Royal Melbourne Showgrounds.

The success of these projects is founded on sound project management: achieving specified outcomes that have clear objectives, within a defined period and with the right staff and resources.

This year's PMOZ 2006 conference theme is "Achieving Excellence" and I believe Victoria is the home of some fine works in progress. including the Austin Health and Mercy Hospital for Women project and Eastlink, which will improve travel times from Melbourne's East to Frankston. Victoria really is the home of world class performances.

Hon Steve Bracks MP
Premier of Victoria

AN INVITATION TO ATTEND

PM Global invites the project management community to Melbourne for PMOZ 2006 - the 3rd Annual Project Management Australia Conference.

In partnership with PMI (Melbourne), Engineers Australia and the Australian Institute of Management this "new look" conference will provide a mixture of high profile, high impact keynote presentations with additional special interest keynote presenters who will present on current topical issues such as Sustainable Development and Urban Management.

PMOZ is now, after only three years, Australia's leading annual Portfolio, Program and Project Management Conference. An integral part of the Project Management calendar, it offers a long term commitment to the advancement of the profession and industry. With excellent support from suppliers and supporting organisations PMOZ 2006 will provide a valuable opportunity for portfolio, program and project managers from around Australia and New Zealand to share and explore their ideas and approaches with their peers.

Building on its previous successes the PMOZ format will now consist of:

- Pre conference workshop/seminars which can be purchased separately to the conference and featuring quality speakers.
- Daily plenary sessions featuring local and international keynote speakers.
- A business program including session streams and workshops for foundation level project managers, construction, mining, engineering, sustainable and urban development, business, ICT and organisational project leaders.
- The PMOZ Business Centre will showcase a trade display of exhibitor products and services on the Wednesday and Thursday of the Conference.
- Innovative and lively networking and social functions.

PMOZ 2006 will provide a forum for education, knowledge transfer, the development of new skills and professional development of all sectors within the industry, and outstanding networking opportunities. We invite you to register now to take advantage of the discounted rates that are available for early registration.

PMOZ is a long term commitment from PM Global and we look forward to seeing you at PMOZ 2006 in Melbourne.

THE CONFERENCE THEME

"Achieving Excellence "

The overall theme for PMOZ 2006 is both simple and sophisticated - how do people and organisations consistently strive for and achieve excellence in the delivery of their projects?

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Portfolio and Program Managers
- Project Managers and Project Directors
- CEO's, CIO's and CTO's
- Government Planners, Managers and Buyers
- Academics and Students
- Business and General Managers
- Human Resource Specialists
- Transport and Logistics Managers
- Property and Infrastructure Developers
- Engineers and Resource Managers

If you are a project management practitioner or use project management principles as a business tool then you should attend.

THE CONFERENCE DESTINATION

MELBOURNE

Melbourne is rated amongst one of the top ten convention destinations in the world. Melbourne is a thriving, dynamic and sophisticated city with a unique balance of graceful old and new architecture surrounded by parks and gardens. With its wealth of culture, Melbourne is Australia's leader in theatre, sports and fashion and boasts some of the finest restaurants in the country. Within close proximity to Melbourne lies a diverse range of great Australian experiences for visitors to enjoy – wineries, temperate rainforests, rugged coastlines, surf beaches, snowfields, deserts, wildlife reserves and historic goldmining towns.

CONFERENCE SUPPORTERS

Special recognition must go to the many organisations that sponsor and support PMOZ. Their support will ensure that this conference remains a great asset to those working in Project Management. Without the support of the industry PMOZ would not be possible. The organisations have committed to the development of the Project Management profession and have aligned to PMOZ because it promotes learning and the sharing of knowledge specific to Project Management. Please note that the following list is current at the time of printing. Those sponsors and exhibitors confirmed after printing will be acknowledged on the website and in the Conference Workbook.

Supporting Partners

Engineers Australia

Engineers Australia is pleased to support PMOZ, the Project Management Australia Conference and to recommend the technical program to engineers and others with a professional interest in project management and the responsibility for managing complex tasks. The conference is an opportunity to learn from leading practitioners and to increase skills in this vitally important area of management.

Project Management Institute Australian Chapters

The Project Management Institute's (PMI) Australian Chapters are pleased to support the PMOZ conference. PMI is a non-profit professional association which has over 200,000 members and more than 230 chapters representing 125 countries. Locally PMI has Chapters based in all mainland states and the ACT. The Melbourne Chapter of PMI is delighted to be the host chapter for PMOZ 2006. We believe the conference program planned for 2006 will contribute significantly to the practice, science and professionalism of Project Management in Australia and we encourage your active participation.

Australian Institute of Management

As Australia's largest professional body for managers, The Australian Institute of Management (AIM) facilitates management and leadership excellence by promoting, supporting and developing the profession of management in all its forms.

For decades, the Institute has responded to the learning needs of the nation, providing contemporary learning solutions for business, government and industry. As a bridging partner we strive to offer our customers the most up-to-the-minute content, deliver methods and support resources for all training and education programs.

AIM's Project Management courses provide participants with a solid foundation for the techniques and processes required to manage projects and function as a Project Manager. Instilling the ability to manage resources in a controlled and timely manner, AIM's Project Management qualifications ensure participants have the key skills required to bring projects in on time and on budget

What Happens to Teams when Change Management Goes Wrong

Presented by Peter De Jager, Technobility
Tuesday 8 August 2006
9.00am – 5.00pm
Where: Sofitel Melbourne

Do you want?

1. A rational approach for implementing Change within your organization? An approach devoid of the myths and hype which serve to make a relatively simple task almost impossible?

2. A reality based model of the Change process which explains not only why we resist being changed, but also how to convert our natural response to change, into support and enthusiasm for the change?

3. to introduce both staff and management to a way of thinking about organizational change that encourages the formation of teams, respects intelligent criticism, invites participation and breaks down the obstacles of the "we" vs. "them" culture?

What is it about?

This one-day interactive learning workshop explores the Change Management process. The topics will include:

- The myths of Change Management
- The value, and flaws of human behavioural models
- The applicability of the Kubler-Ross Grief Cycle to organizational Change
- The Virginia Satir Change Process Model
- The single point of failure in change management
- Why good, honest, open communications is the pivot point of change management projects
- Why resistance to change is both necessary and desirable
- Why is it valuable?

You will have gained the following knowledge and skills and be able to:

- Identify threats to the Status Quo
- Involve those affected by the threat, in the selection and implementation of the Change necessary to alleviate the threat
- Design a communication plan to address the real concerns of the Target Audience
- Respond appropriately to concerns regarding the Change in order to avoid reinforcing those concerns

- Empower the organization to direct their own change
- Install support structures to shorten the transition period
- Respect the existing status quo before replacing it with another
- Minimize the pain of change in order to make it easier to embrace
- Recognize why celebrating a transition is not just a reason to throw a party

Who should attend?

- Those currently involved in any aspect of Change Management from awareness of need through to celebration of implementation
- Those required to implement new change initiatives or recover from failed implementations
- Those with expertise in management looking to increase their ability to manage "Resistance to Change"
- Staff faced with unnecessary Change requiring a management acceptable means to resist
- Project leaders who want their clients to embrace the product of their efforts
- Those wishing to attain a practical, reality based understanding of change management

This training has been crafted to allow the attendee to decide for themselves that this approach has value. The session is interactive, informative, provocative and unavoidably... fun.

Cost: $690

Risk Management

Presented by Andrew Leicester, Consat

Tuesday 8 August 2006
9.00am – 5.00pm
Where: Sofitel Melbourne

This workshop aims to provide participants with a working knowledge of the principles of Risk Management, Analysis and control and is based on AS/NZS 4360Z; 2004 on Risk Management. It will help participants identify the "risk activities" that might arise and how they can be treated and planned for. Tools will be demonstrated to help with the analysis and management of risk.

Because good comprehensive Risk Management is time consuming and impossible to do manually as the size of projects increases, risk management software will be demonstrated.

The workshop will be presented with a number of hands on exercises using the basic tools of risk managemen

This workshop is for everyone concerned with evaluating and managing risk for projects, disaster recovery and on-going activities of any kind

Working in groups, attendees will use a case study to work through the practical applications of the Risk Management methodology.

Cost: $690

CONFERENCE MC

Toby Travanner

R.E. (Toby) Travanner is a professional corporate trainer, keynote presenter, facilitator, MC and consultant. His area of expertise as well as his passion is coaching individuals and teams to realise their business and personal goals in the areas of sales and marketing.

Toby is both an entertaining and challenging facilitator with a reputation for high-energy, high-contact interaction, consistently achieving 'excellent' ratings from participants of his sessions, most of whom rate him as the best presenter they have experienced.

Being well versed in many industries, and with over 16 years of consulting experience in providing peak personal performance where a measurable return on intellect is delivered to organisations, Toby captures and motivates audiences with real, 'take home' techniques and attitudes equipping them to break through personal barriers.

Toby believes success is a process. You learn how to achieve - and then make it happen. Approaching everything with the same zestful attitude, he has inspired countless others to achieve their highest personal and sales goals.

He has worked with over 10,000 individuals from organisations including IBM Asia Pacific, National Australia Bank, Cap Gemini Ernst & Young, Minter Ellison Lawyers, Telstra, Malleson Stephens Jaques, Hewlett Packard, Corrs Chambers Westgarth, Novation Leasing Company and Tattersall's.

Toby runs his own learning and development company, aptly named The Learning Company Pty Ltd.

Toby has a degree in scientific research and also has a background in the entertainment industry. He is also a Member of the Adjunct Faculty at the Australian Graduate School of Management.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Peter Cosgrove

The son of an army officer, General Cosgrove, entered the Royal Military College, Duntroon, straight after school to begin the life of a career soldier.

And while that career has included a variety of staff and overseas appointments, including a stint as commandant of Duntroon, it was as a young lieutenant in Vietnam that he tasted the raw reality of a soldiers life. Barely a month after arriving, and less than a year after receiving his commission, 22–year–old Peter Cosgrove won the Military Cross, leading his platoon in a protracted assault on enemy positions.

His achievements over the next 30 years saw him rise steadily through the army's hierarchy until, in 1999, he was thrust into the full glare of the nation's, and the world's, spotlight as commander of the International Forces in East Timor. General Cosgrove's mission, to restore order to this new country on our doorstep, required the utmost skill and sensitivity. Under his care and guidance rested the safety of thousands of young men and women, most of them Australians, and the security of the East Timorese people.

Here at home we watched with pride, the professionalism and concern of our peacekeeping forces...as, under General Cosgrove's direction, they offered a helping hand to lay the foundations of a new nation with an enthusiasm that went well beyond the description of their role as peacekeepers. That pride heightened by the fact, that the man at the top displayed those characteristics we value most as Australians – strength, determination, intelligence, compassion and humour... Characteristics that have been developed equally through his family life with his wife Lynne, and their three sons. General Cosgrove was appointed a Companion of the Military Division of the Order of Australia (AC) for his effort in East Timor. On his return to Australia he was appointed Chief of Army. In July 2002 General Cosgrove assumed the profile position of Chief of the Defence Force, a position he held until July 2005.

In every respect Peter Cosgrove has demonstrated that he is a role model, not just for the men and women under his command, but for all Australians.

Peter de Jager

Keynote Topic: Change Management

Peter de Jager is a speaker/writer/consultant on the issues relating to the Rational Assimilation of the Future. He has published hundreds of articles on topics ranging from Problem Solving, Creativity and Change to the impact of technology on areas such as privacy, security and business. His articles have appeared in The Washington Post, The Wall Street Journal, The Futurist and Scientific American.

He is best known to IT audiences for his efforts to create responsible awareness of the Y2K issue – For which he received several awards from IT associations and Govt. Agencies.

In addition to presentations and seminars on the topics above, he writes about a dozen regular columns. These include; Association Trends, CIPS across Canada, Enterprise, Globe & Mail online and Municipal World -

He's spoken in more than 35 countries and is recognized worldwide as an exciting, humorous, provocative and engaging speaker. His audiences have included the World Economic Forum, The World Bank and The Bank for International Settlements.

His presentations and workshops are highly interactive, fun, irreverent to mistaken ideas and most distinctively - provocative. He forces you, by demonstrating conflicts between your stated beliefs and behaviours, to think differently about what you thought you knew. You can read much of his work in the publications section of www.technobility.com

Egidio Zarrella, KMPG

Keynote Topic: What Boards ask us, about you.

Egidio (Edge) is the Global Partner in Charge of the Information Risk Management Practice. The Global Practice represents over 250 partners and 2,500 staff, a business with fees in excess of US$900M. AIR TRAVEL

Eventcorp Travel is able to book for you any published airfare. Our in-house licensed travel agent can provide you with the best available airfares on the day. Please indicate your travel requirements in writing to Sherrilyn Wigg at travel@eventcorp.com.au or call her on (07) 3846 5858.

Changes or amendments after tickets are issued will incur a fee of $55 per change and any airline fees (conditions apply). Tickets will not be issued without prior payment (a purchase order does not constitute payment).

PRIVATE TRANSFERS

Private car transfers and car hire can be booked by Eventcorp. Please contact Sherrilyn Wigg on (07) 3846 5858 or travel@eventcorp.com.au .

INSURANCE

Registration fees do not include personal insurance of any kind. We strongly recommend that, if you are booking any travel arrangements, you should arrange a travel insurance policy to cover loss of luggage, cancellation charges, etcetera. The PMOZ 2006 Conference and Eventcorp take no responsibility for any loss or damage sustained by delegates in connection with the conference. Travel insurance is available through the Conference Secretariat, please call 07 3846 5858 or travel@eventcorp.com.au.

CONDITIONS OF REGISTRATION

Payment

All prices are in Australian dollars and GST inclusive. Payment can be made by cheque or credit card. Cheques must be made in Australian currency, drawn on an Australian Bank and made payable to "Eventcorp Pty Ltd – PMOZ 2006". ABN 29 056 867 657. Payment by credit card is acceptable for Visa, Bankcard, Mastercard, Amex and Diners Club cards.

NB. Faxed registration forms are acceptable only if payment is by credit card. Please post registration forms with accompanying cheques or credit card details. Registrations will not be confirmed until payment is received.

Confirmation of Registration and Changes

Registration forms and fees will be acknowledged and accommodation and air travel bookings confirmed by email. When you register online you will be provided with an access key. This will enable you to confirm/edit your details online until 3 August 2006. The cut off date for registrations is 3 August 2006. Registrations will be accepted after this date, however will not be processed until on-site at the conference.

Cancellations of Conference Registrations

Cancellations must be made in writing to the Conference Secretariat. Cancellations received before 8 July 2006 will be entitled to a full refund, less an administration fee of $220. After this date, no refunds will apply, however substitute delegates will be welcome.

Visa

If you are traveling from another country, please ensure you have the appropriate travel and immigration documentation with you.

Disclaimer

All information is correct at time of printing. The conference organisers reserve the right to change the program, speakers, events and/or times, dates, prices and other details as necessary. All prices quoted in this brochure include GST. The organisers reserve the right to charge delegates for the correct amount where the wrong amount of money has been provided.
