CRC Conference

The Third International CRC for Construction Innovation Conference will be held March 12 to 14, 2008. The Clients Driving Innovation: Benefiting from Innovation conference will demonstrate how applied research is making a difference in delivering social, environmental and economic benefits to property, design and construction. It will be held in Queensland at the Surfers Paradise Marriott Resort. The conference will be climate neutral by offsetting emissions generated by electricity and gas use, travel and other direct greenhouse gas emissions by funding clean energy projects through the purchase of Gold Standard carbon credits. Conference themes will include Sustainable construction for the future and Industry development.
